

LIZ YOUNG

HEAD OF MEDIA AND PUBLIC RELATIONS

POLICE SERVICE OF NORTHERN IRELAND

Liz Young is responsible for the Department of Media and Public Relations, which is the primary resource available to officers and staff in dealing with the media. The department processes all requests for information, interviews and queries from media.

Prior to taking up this role in March 2008, Liz was Head of Communications for NI Water and had responsibility for managing internal and external communications and Public Affairs. She was also responsible for overseeing the organisation's brand transformation from Water Service, a public body, to NI Water, a government, co-owned company, in April 2007 and communicating associated implications of this move to existing staff.
